Calls South the Last Frontier

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A former New Englander now with a Jackson, Miss. firm told the 15th annual meeting of the Southern Industrial Development Council today that the South is the last frontier of individual effort and expression.

"The people of the South offer the primary reason for any industry locating in this region," said H. C. Yeager of Jackson. He addressed 150 delegates in the convention's first business session.

"They give industry the opportunity to avail itself of a new labor market drawing from people whose basic philosophy is individual enterprise."

"The greatest thing they offer is an innate sense of pride in accomplishment. From that you get better productivity and a better quality of product," he added.

Yeager is an official of Vickers Inc., a company that manufactures hydraulic power components. He moved to Jackson four years ago from Hartford, Conn.

Teakwood furniture, massive and heavily carved, which was made in the Orient over 400 years ago, is on display at the Saunders Memorial Museum at Berryville.

Mrs. Georgia Whittemore of Hope was the weekend guest of her sister, Mrs. Joe Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rogers of Little Rock were the weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bolls.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Teeter spent the weekend in Jonesboro with their daughter, Mrs. Jim Sloan and family.

Mrs. George Fritz returned to her home in North Little Rock Friday after a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hansel Herring. They attended the Ark-Miss football game on Saturday night.

Mrs. Robbie Wilson and Mrs. Alfred Cummings were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Smith in Little Rock and attended the Ark-Miss football game.

Chapter XXXII

The first Americans they saw from their vantage point atop the ruins of the Villa of the Emperor Augustus were in two rows which about noon, poked their noses from under the alley of flex trees on the Passeggiata Archeologica. A figure stood up in one jeep and scanned the Circus Maximus and the Palatine with binoculars. Evidently seeing no sign of the enemy, he waved to someone behind him and in a couple of minutes four tanks rolled into the open square and took up positions controlling the entrances to the north.

"Surprising how much they look like the Germans," commented Paolo. "It seems — sort of an anticlimax."

"What did you expect?" asked her father. "A parade of acolytes and guardian angels? An army of an army? Holy, lived and frightened?"

After guiding the first American column to the Capitoline Hill, where the American and British flags were raised Paolo ate cold rations with the troops who had set up a temporary headquarters in Piazza Venezia.

At five o'clock he was already at the Hotel Hassler, walking nervously back and forth to the Spanish Steps, from the top of which he could see a command post of two tanks and a jeep in Piazza di Spagna. Not much after six the first vehicles bearing the insignia of Headquarters 88th Division, stopped before the hotel.

"Say, Paolo," called a jeep driver to Paolo, "dove Hotel Hassler?"

"It's right beside you, bud — can't you read?" replied Paolo testily. "You're a little late, aren't you?"

Two officers jumped down from the jeep and went into the hotel. After they were out of earshot the driver offered Paolo a cigarette. "I'll say we're late! You an American?" He lit Paolo's cigarette.

"Yes."

"What are you doing here?"

"Escaped pilot," lied Paolo, "enjoying life."

"Aw, gee. Shot down, eh? Well, we are late — because the General wouldn't let no one, after the first patrol, go into the city until his photographers came up to take pictures of 'im as a big hero, conqueror' Rome. And we been up all night. So there we sat, playing mumblety-peg while the Krauts walked calmly away. I don't understand war."

"Paul! Paul Macdougall!"

Paul looked up. Colonel Harington was getting out of a command car.

"Hi, Colonel!" Paolo waved to the jeep driver and ran over to Harrington.

"Well, here we are! How's Rome?"

"I had it all planned to say 'Welcome to Rome, Colonel! Harrington' — and I forgot. How's everybody?"

"All well enough. Valencos and Wright, and some others will be here tomorrow. We'll move in a base radio this week to work missions further north. Are you okay?"

"I'm all right, I guess."

"Well, let's go in and have a drink. We've got to talk about pigeons. They went into the bar and downstairs to the bar."

"You don't know how much trouble broke loose over those birds, even conferences at the Pentagon. Two investigating boards are coming here. One from the Signal Corps; whose beloved birds have been insulted. And one set up by Jago — General Nolan. What happened?"

"I don't know what happened. We got the birds. We released some as and when instructed. Search me — some arrived, some didn't. I couldn't fly after them."

"I wonder why he's more interested in pigeons than human beings?" Paolo thought.

"You can joke about it with me — but when Signal Corps generals begin questioning you, don't wise crack with them. He took a big swallow of grappa. 'Holy Moses! What is this gasoline?'"

"Just lousy grappa."

"How are your agents — lose any?"

"Just two." Paolo remembered feeling Gigi's dead face in the dunes — and Livio's saying, "Could I take the bicycle, Signore, and go to swim in the river?" What was he going to say to Gigi's parents? He would certainly have to call on them now. And Ciccia — he would have to face him. "I mustn't cry in front of Harrington," he thought. "I mustn't."

"Are you all right, Paul? You seem to be in a sort of trance."

"Yes, I'm okay."

"Can I see Danesi, today? He was pretty good, wasn't he?"

"Sure. Yes. He was." Paolo tried to pull himself together. "Principe Mont'Alto would like you to dine at his place tonight. Lucchino Danesi will be there. And Rossini — and Mont'Alto's daughter. They were all wonderful. Wonderful."

"I'd love to. I'm waiting now

Red Bloc to Push Cuban Charges

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet bloc was expected to press in the U.N. steering committee today for quick General Assembly debate on Cuban charges that the United States is mounting a large-scale invasion against Fidel Castro's regime.

With the Soviet Union, Romania and Bulgaria all members of the 21-nation committee, the Communists were seen certain to push hard for speedy debate of the charges in a plenary assembly session instead of in the political committee, the normal U.N. procedure.

In a memorandum accompanying the aggression charges, Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa cited the three Americans executed recently for their part in an anti-Castro expedition that landed in Cuba's Oriente province. He also claimed that arms had been dropped in central Cuba by a four-engine plane with U.S. markings.

The memorandum said Cuban authorities had reliable information that a large-scale U.S. invasion against Cuban soil would be launched soon.

The first railroad was completed through the Ozarks in 1906 and was known as the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern.

HEALTH HINTS

Can Science Be Wrong?

The answer is "Yes." When a new science makes its appearance it must have its own laws and standards upon which to build. Existing laws of the science are inadequate to pass judgment upon a new science. . . . for this reason . . . some of our most brilliant inventions were considered impossible because they dealt with changes of principal.

Scientists said that a lowly Dutch janitor couldn't possibly produce a better microscope than the entire Royal Society of London. Scientists proved conclusively that the world could not be round, that an iron ship could not float, that the telegraph was utterly impractical, that flight in heavier-than-air craft was a physical impossibility, and that the Farnsworth television tube was worthless.

Harris Gym was a scene of beauty Thursday at 2 p.m. when approximately 750 students, teachers and visitors witnessed the crowning of Miss Yeger High of 1960-61, Miss Shirley McClellan of the 11-B Class, Mrs. Louise Yeger sponsor.

After the trumpet signal was given by B. W. Carter, band instructor, two herds from the third grade class, Rogers Hicks Jr. and Stanley Wilson, Mrs. Gurtra Williamson, teacher, entered and announced the coming of the queen as Mrs. Edna Spearman, furnished soft piano music.

The queen's procession, consisting of two flower girls, Phillis Strong and Jacquelyn Hamilton, from the first grade, Mrs. Dora Kern, teacher, strolling flowers; last year's queen by proxy, Miss Ruth Holl, escorted by Co-Captain Lee Warren; the queen, leaning on the arms of Co-Captain Freeman Criner and 12 lovely representatives from the 7th through the 12th grades, marched up the aisle to the stage.

When the queen ascended her throne, they formed a semi-circle around her. She was presented a bouquet by last year's representative and crowned by Co-Captain Criner.

Mrs. Spearman furnished an interesting musical program for the queen's entertainment.

Principal Will V. Rutherford congratulated the queen and presented to her his official recognition of her as "Miss Yeger of 1960-61."

Arkansas farmers produced and sold more than three million dollars worth of strawberries in 1959.

Also confiscated under the decree issued at dawn were the Cuban properties of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. Westinghouse General Electric, the Minimax chain of supermarkets, Reynolds International Aluminum, the Railway Express Agency, the Havana racetrack and Havana's only armored car service.

The confiscation also took in companies operating in the drug, automobile, mining, oil, insurance, cosmetics, poultry, construction, bedding, sewing machine, machinery, clothing, textile and other fields.

The government had been operating many of these firms for some time, but this latest decree brings them under outright government ownership.

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government early today ordered the nationalization of all remaining American-owned property in Cuba, authoritative sources said.

U.S. embassy sources had estimated there were 300 American-owned or partly owned firms valued at about $250 million still operating in Cuba.

Voters Want to Tell How They Voted

LONOKE, Ark. (AP)—The Screenshot-Gunter election contest suit shifted back here today for arguments of a petition to call all Hazen voters to testify how they cast ballots in the Aug. 9 Democratic primary election.

Circuit Judge W. J. Waggoner said he might rule late today in the suit by J. T. Gunter contesting the outcome of the primary in the 19th Senatorial District in which state Sen. Jerry Screenshot was the apparent victor.

Presumably a ruling on the Hazen voters' petition would precede a ruling in the suit.

The petition was filed Monday by 88 Hazen voters contending that their votes should be counted. Waggoner earlier in the suit had thrown out the Hazen and Magness boxes from the home precincts of Gunter, of Austin, and Screenshot of Hazen.

Waggoner had denied Screenshot permission to call as witnesses all the 941 persons Screenshot claims cast ballots in Hazen township.

Gunter Saturday claimed victory but Screenshot Monday insisted he still would be the victor after a final ruling.

Nixon Raps Kennedy as a Leader

By JACK BELL

EN ROUTE With Nixon (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today there are new frontiers ahead for America but Sen. John F. Kennedy is not prepared to cross them.

Nixon told a crowd of police estimated at 5,000 persons in Marietta, Ohio, that his Democratic rival is "dangerously downgrading" the United States by saying that it has lost prestige in the world.

Noting Kennedy's "new frontiers" campaign slogan, Nixon said these frontiers exist. But he said the Democrats offer the country nothing new for the future.

Nixon was greeted by a small crowd when he got off his campaign train in Williamsstown, W. Va., to drive to Marietta for his first speech of the day.

The Marietta crowd, massed in front of an armory in the sunny but frosty morning, was largely silent during his talk, but warmed up at the end.

The Republican nominee said the voters will be deciding in the Nov. 8 election whether they are going to pay higher prices for everything they buy. If his opponent is elected Nixon said, prices and taxes will go up.

Also confiscated under the decree issued at dawn were the Cuban properties of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. Westinghouse General Electric, the Minimax chain of supermarkets, Reynolds International Aluminum, the Railway Express Agency, the Havana racetrack and Havana's only armored car service.

The confiscation also took in companies operating in the drug, automobile, mining, oil, insurance, cosmetics, poultry, construction, bedding, sewing machine, machinery, clothing, textile and other fields.

Prostitution Paying Well in London

LONDON (AP)—A pretty blonde says that in three years she earned $84,000 as a prostitute in London.

"And that's nothing to what some of the girls are making," Anne Carter, 21, testified Monday during the trial of her ex-boy friend John Conway, 27.

Conway was sentenced to prison for five years for living off Anne's immoral earnings.

Anne said she began by making $28 to $56 a night. Then her earnings rose to around $200 a night.

Her peak was the week after Britain's new law against soliciting for prostitution last year drove most of the girls off the streets.

Anne said she advertised in store windows and made nearly $2,000.

She testified she gave Conway half of everything she earned.

"But life with Johnny wasn't easy," she said. "We had many rows. I walked out five times, but like a fool I always went running back." Police testified they saw Conway beat her.

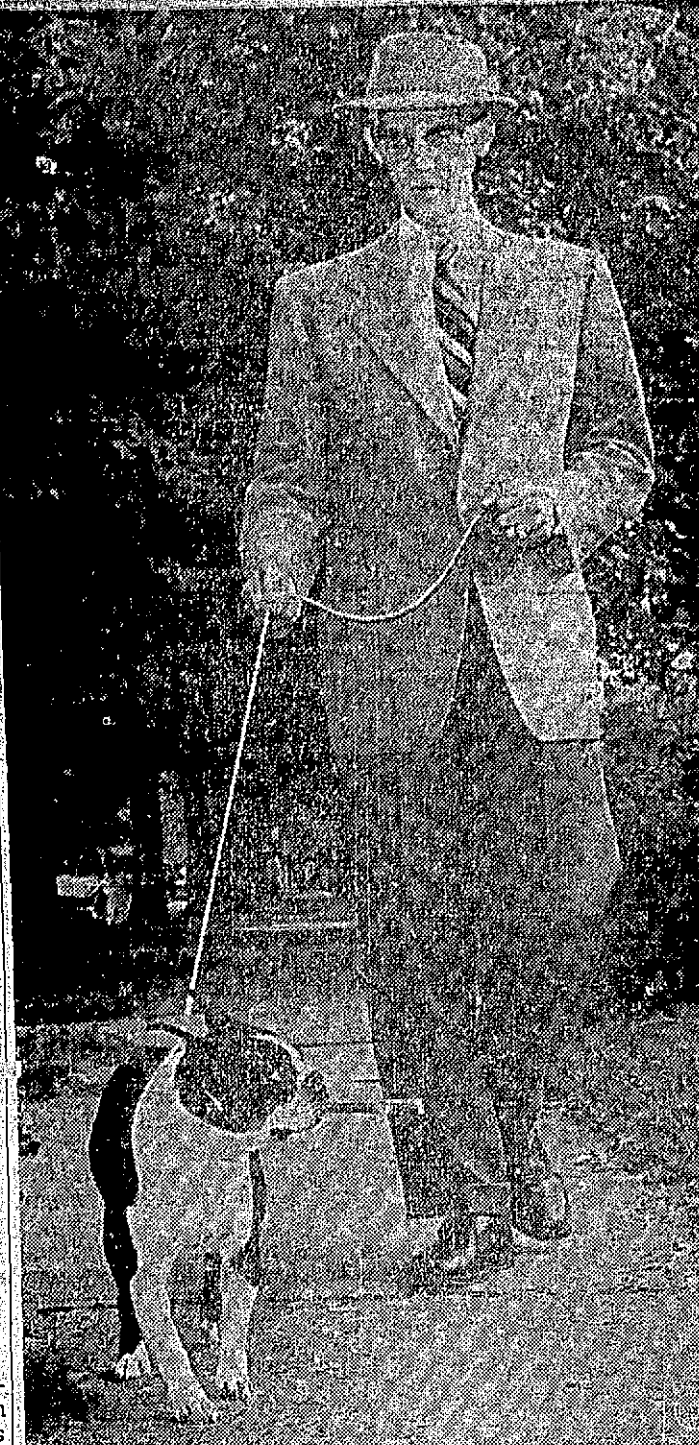

There was no charge against the girl.

"I never want to see Johnny again," she told reporters after court. "That part of my life is over."

Defense to Take Over Mode Case

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—Prosecutor George Hartje expected to complete his case today in a second murder trial of 60-year-old Lee Mode in the slaying of another man on a Conway street.

Mode, who testified in his own behalf at a trial last year, was expected to take the stand late today or Wednesday.

Mode is accused of killing Delbert L. Russell, 37, Oct. 13, 1958. Russell had filed an alienation of affections suit against Mode a few days earlier.

Among witnesses Monday, after a jury of 11 men and one woman was selected to hear the case, was Gordon Holl, operator of the Conway Waterworks plant, testified that he once had found Mode, Russell and a woman on waterworks property. He said Russell told him "this old man is trying to run away with my wife" and that Russell said he had taken a gun from the older man.

Mode, a former contractor, was tried for first degree murder last year. Convicted of second degree murder, he was given a 21-year sentence, but the Arkansas Supreme Court set this aside and ordered a new trial. He now cannot be convicted of anything more than second degree murder.

The case is being tried here on a change of venue from Faulkner Circuit Court in Conway.

ONE VOTE COULD WIN-YOURS!

No matter how many millions of ballots are cast, it takes only one vote to win a closely contested political campaign. In 1948, for example, our presidential election was decided by one vote in each precinct of just two states. You can see why it's so important for you to vote. That one vote of yours could make all the difference. That one vote could make history.

Rates U.S. World's Most Powerful

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—President Eisenhower rates America as history's most powerful nation. He says it needs no giant new defense programs or any massive economic shot in the arm from the federal government.

The President ended a cross-country speaking tour on that note Monday night—a nine-day trip billed by the White House as non-political. Today he flies back to Washington to prepare for putting on his political gloves in a sleigh drive effort to elect the Nixon-Lodge ticket.

Friday evening Eisenhower will address a nationwide television audience from a rally in Philadelphia. A week from Wednesday he will be in New York for another major political address which will be carried coast-to-coast on both radio and TV. He may make additional speeches.

Eisenhower, a native Texan, lit a roaring welcome to Houston from a police-estimated crowd of 300,000. He carried Texas in 1952 and 1956, and the backers of 1952 President Richard M. Nixon hope the President's great popularity will keep the state in the Republican column Nov. 8.

Nixon's rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy, has been hammering throughout the campaign at his contention that U. S. prestige has slipped abroad during the Eisenhower administration. He says America is strong militarily but needs to be stronger, and that the Soviet Union is outpacing this country in rate of economic growth.

Eisenhower said at Rice University: "If we, today, look at ourselves in true perspective, we see a great nation—the most powerful the world has seen, with a confident, virile people, a vigorous, expanding economy."

Porkers No. 12 in National Grid Ratings

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Iowa continued as the No. 1 football team in the country for the second straight week in The Associated Press ratings today, and this time the Hawkeyes won going away.

When they took over as top kick last week, they nosed out Mississippi by just two points.

This week they compiled 458 points to 385 for the Rebels. Thirty-four members of the 49-man voting board placed the Hawkeyes first. Nine others had Mississippi in first place and five awarded the No. 1 spot to Syracuse, which finished back in third place with 355 points.

The points were figured in the usual order of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second place and so on down the line. All told, only 10 teams received votes.

There was little change from last week's ratings because only one team in that first 10 lost. Purdue, which had held down the 10th spot, fell before Iowa, 21-14, and as a result bounced out of the select company.

Michigan State, on the basis of its 35-0 victory over Indiana, elbowed its way into the No. 10 position.

The leaders with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Iowa (34) 458
2. Mississippi (9) 385
3. Syracuse (5) 355
4. Navy 290
5. Missouri 283
6. Minnesota 267
7. Baylor 191
8. Ohio State 172
9. Washington 76
10. Michigan State 41

Others receiving votes included: Tennessee 37, Arkansas 15, Rice 11, Auburn 10, Purdue, Duke and Oregon State, 8 each; New Mexico State 5 and Kansas 2.

L. A. Lakers Disappointed

The New York Knickerbockers beat the Lakers 111-101 in a National Basketball Association game Monday night before only 4,008 fans.

It was the third consecutive defeat for Los Angeles, which has yet to win a game this season.

Love Opponents Players Told

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungarian footballers were told today they should "learn" to love their opponents, not call them dirty names.

The newspaper Nepsport said a Communist society expected certain rules of "human together living" to be honored and those who broke them should be "re-educated."

Nepsport said it was all to frequent for one player lacking an opponent to say "How are you, you..."

And for the other to reply: "I'm fine, you..."

The paper added far to many footballers who had been fairly tackled "played the moribund forehead like third-rate actors, writhing on the ground in sham agony while watching the referee through their fingers."

Musial Made Best Nat'l Comeback

By CHUCK CAPALDO
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—If Stan Musial has his wish, he'll make an even bigger comeback in 1961 than the one that earned him The Associated Press National League Comeback Player of the Year award for 1960.

"I'd like to hit over .300 next season," the St. Louis Cardinals' all-time great said today, "and possibly play a little more. I wasn't a bit tired at the end of the season."

Musial, who will be 40 on Nov. 21, beat out teammate Curt Simmons by 11 votes Monday in the AP poll of baseball writers.

AP poll of baseball writers: Musial received 55 ballots, Simmons 44.

Bob Friend of Pittsburgh was third with 30 and Richie Ashburn of Chicago fourth with 11. Another Cardinal, Ernie Broglio, rounded out the top five with 7 votes.

Musial got the nod for a mid-season spurt that carried him and the Redbirds into the higher echelons of the NL. Many thought Stan was washed up following the 1959 campaign when he fell off to .255—35 points below his previous career low.

He worked hard during the winter, though, and set sail into '60 like the Musial of old.

In May, however, Stan sloughed off to .250 and was benched. Manager Sollie Hemus put him back in the lineup a month later when veteran outfielder Bob Nieman was injured. The Cards won 33 of their next 47 games. Stan's average jumped 80 points to .316.

He finished with a creditable .275 average, 17 homers and 63 RBIs in 116 games. "It was a good, productive year," said Stan. The Cards wound up third.

On Sept. 15 Musial put an end to speculation he would retire by announcing he will play again next season. "I still love to play," he said.

Porks Tackle A&M, Baylor Plays Froggies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There is little doubt that Baylor has one of the finest football teams in the country, but according to Coach Abe Martin of Texas Christian the Bears are the best.

Martin, issuing a warning to his Horned Frogs Monday, said:

"As far as I'm concerned, we'll be facing the best team in the nation."

The Frogs meet unbeaten, nationally-ranked Baylor in a Southwest Conference game Saturday at Fort Worth.

Martin drilled his team Monday without pads but wasted no time familiarizing them with the defense he plans to use Saturday.

The Frogs polished their offense and then settled down to brush up on its defense in a 90-minute drill.

Al Waco, Coach John Bridges worked the Bears longer than usual as they drilled over an hour in a dummy scrimmage against the redshirts.

The University of Texas, still jolted by two straight conference setbacks, opened preparation for Southern Methodist by shaking up its first string line.

"I still think we have a good ball team, but we are not able to make the big plays like we did last year," Coach Darrell Royal said.

"The first string line played well against Rice. We were able to move the ball better than the shutout (7-0) indicated."

SMU, seeking its first victory—conference or otherwise—slugged a light workout and watched films of its 28-7 loss to Texas Tech.

Over in the Ozarks, Arkansas, still having nightmare visions of field goals, worked out in shorts and shirts. The Razorbacks appeared in near top shape for Texas A&M at College Station Saturday.

Meanwhile, the Aggies held a light workout, heard a scouting report on Arkansas and viewed movies of their 14-0 loss to Baylor.

The Cadets, who have given up 14 points to all three of their conference opponents—lying two and losing to Baylor—were told by the coaches their line played it finest game against the Bears.

Rice Coach Jess Neely says he has a problem.

"We'll be in good condition physically, but we have the problem of convincing the boys that we're only half through the season after beating Texas."

The Owls, undefeated in league play, face the troublesome Texas Tech Red Raiders Saturday.

The Raiders, who gained their first SWC victory in history last week, emphasized defense against kick returns in a light drill.

Bern Suicide Case Reopen in Filmland

LOS ANGELES (AP) After 28 years, the district attorney's office is again investigating the death of writer-producer Paul Bern, husband of the late Jean Harlow.

Bern's death in 1932 was listed officially as suicide. Miss Harlow died five years later, at 26, of uremic poisoning.

Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson said Monday a fresh inquiry is being made because writer Ben Hecht said in a recent magazine article that a suicide note reputedly left by the 42-year-old Bern was a forgery.

Hecht charged that Bern was murdered by another woman, whom he did not name.

Hecht's article said film studio officials decided it was better that the public believe Bern killed himself than to let it be known that Miss Harlow could not keep her husband.

Bern and the actress were married July 2, 1932. Two months later Bern was found shot to death just outside the door of his bedroom in their Benedict Canyon home.

"When a writer of Ben Hecht's stature puts in public print without qualification that a murder has been committed, it is up to the district attorneys office to investigate the case, no matter how long ago it occurred," McKesson said.

At the time of Bern's death, Miss Harlow could give police no motive for suicide. The next day she tried to throw herself off a balcony, officers reported.

It was then discovered, police said, that Bern had for 10 years supported a woman whose maiden name was Dorothy Millette. A few days after Bern's death her body was found in a slough of the Sacramento River, officers said.

Moody Says He Will Be Clerk

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Hal Moody of Little Rock said Monday that all members of the House of Representatives and Gov. Orval E. Faubus have agreed to his election as chief clerk for the 1961 legislature. Moody held that position in both the 1957 and 1959 sessions.

Houston Back Leads Rushers

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Houston's Dave Smith, for the seventh straight week, leads the American Football League in rushing.

The 204-pound fullback from Greendale, Wis., has carried 73 times for 304 yards and a 4.2 average. Alan Miller of Boston, with 265 yards on 47 carries and a 5.7 average, is second.

George Blanda, the passing and kicking specialist for Houston, retained his scoring lead. The Oilers quarterback has racked up 69 points on four touchdowns, 21 extra points and eight field goals.

Gene Mingo of Denver is second with 55 points.

Yerger Wins Homecoming Game 26-6

The Yerger Tigers returned to the winning ranks last week-end at Hammond Stadium as they scored once in the first half and three times in the last half to down the Jones High Dragons of North Little Rock 26 to 6 in the annual Homecoming game that saw Shirley McClellan crowned Miss Yerger High of 1960-61 by co-captain Will V. Rutledge Jr. during half-time ceremonies.

The Junior High team also made its debut under the direction of Miss O. C. Lewis.

Both teams were held scoreless in the first period of play by good defensive playing. The first score of the night came when Yerger HB Lee Warren, raced the sidelines from 21 yards out to put the hosts ahead. Warren also converted safely to put the Tigers out front, 7-0.

During the remaining time in the first half the Dragons did not cross the midfield stripe. The Tigers did manage to get to the NLR 30 but, fumbled the ball and Jones High recovered as the half ended.

The Tigers scored again midway of the third period as the Dragon offense charged hard by on-rushing Tigers, Viz, Criner, Guiley, Newton and Turner, fumbled and Center Everett Edwards of Ycager did it again. (Edwards ran a fake punt 94 yards in the Hot Springs game). He scooped the ball up on the Jones 46 and raced up the middle for the second Tiger TD. The PAT failed.

The third Yerger tally came when FB Richard Cox, on a driving plunge up the middle scored from the 17 yard line. Cox also converted safely to give the Tigers a 20-0 lead in the final period.

But the Dragon delegation was not to be blanked as its QB Boswell, a 440 man, who does it in 50.3 seconds took a Yerger punt on his own 45 and outdistanced the Yerger line for the lone Dragon tally. The PAT failed.

The last Yerger tally came late in the final quarter when FB Cox broke in the opening at the midfield stripe and went all the way for his second TD of the night. The conversion try failed.

Wednesday, the Tigers will journey to the Sooner State to take on Washington High of Idabel, Oklahoma.

Threat Dismissed as Just Talk

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The report of a former Cuban ambassador to Britain that he would fly to Miami today for an invasion of Cuba was dismissed by Miami police as "just more talk."

"This invasion talk has been going on ever since Fidel Castro took Cuba," said Detective L. F. Gracely of the police intelligence division. "It has all been just talk."

Sergio Rojas Santamarina, the ambassador who was fired this year by Castro said in an interview in London that there were 150,000 Cuban refugees in Miami and thousands and thousands were in condition and ready to fight.

Edward P. Ahrens district immigration director in Miami, pointed out that there actually are only about 5,000 of these refugees in Florida, including women and children. Most of them are concentrated in Miami.

Says Football Better Than Ever Before

By DAVID M. NELSON

Head Football Coach University of Delaware (Written for The Associated Press)

Football in 1960 is a better game in every respect than at any time during its history.

The regulations of the conference and other governing bodies have made the conduct of the game and the academic and eligibility requirements commensurate with the institutional setting.

This, coupled with pressure for better scholarship brought about by the great influx of students and the spunk influence, has brought the quality of the student athlete to an all-time high.

The actual playing and conduct of football is superior to anything we have known in the past because of time, money and effort.

Great coaches and players of the past would be outstanding and successful in this era but the number of men of equal quality is far greater today.

The modern coach has more assistants, spends the entire year with the game, has a single assignment and has access to information never available to former coaches. The enormous number of periodicals, manuals, books and clinics enable the coach in the smallest school to keep in step with the latest ideas in all aspects of the game.

There was a time, before television, game movies and clinics when a coach could use an offensive or defensive idea for several years without ever changing. To day a new idea, or the remedy the spectator is treated to a better game.

Harris Rated the 'Best' by Broyles

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

Arkansas' Wayne Harris is small for a college lineman, but Razorback Coach Frank Broyles says, "I don't see how anybody could be a better college football player."

Harris, a center and linebacker known for his hard tackles, earned that praise last Saturday against mighty Mississippi. Though the Rebels eked out a 10-7 victory, Harris keyed a stout Arkansas defense which allowed Ole Miss to start only eight plays in Razorback territory.

The 185-pound Harris uses speed and determination, plus an uncanny ability to get in on the tackle, to make up for any lack of size.

Against Mississippi he was in on almost half the tackles. He made six unassisted. Such defensive leadership is expected from Harris. Through the first six games he had a total of 35 tackles and 68 assists.

"I just try to hit them harder than they hit me and faster," he says. "If I don't they'll run right over me."
